Organic Fostering: "Leave the Light On"

30-second AI video (photoreal, not animation) · 9:16 vertical · Instagram Reels, TikTok and Facebook

CONCEPT

The idea

A dark, rainy street at night. One porch light clicks on. Inside, a foster carer has just taken a call: a child needs somewhere safe tonight. We watch him get the house ready in a warm, quiet race against the clock: fresh sheets, a nightlight, warm milk, toast. Then headlights sweep across the window and the door opens.

It's a story about emergency fostering, one of the types of fostering Organic Fostering offers, and about the carers who are ready when it matters.

Line: Could you leave the light on?

Reference

Pinterest blocks automated browsing, so I couldn't open individual pins. The look draws on the cosy rainy-night aesthetic that is hugely popular on Pinterest in autumn and winter: rain on windows, warm lamplight, glowing porches and steaming mugs.

Why it's eye-catching

- The first shot is a cinematic drone view of a rain-soaked street with one light clicking on, which feels like the opening of a film.
- A ticking clock gives the video urgency, so people want to see who arrives.
- The warm contrast between the cold, wet street and the glowing house makes every frame feel good to watch.

Why it's new

Earlier AI videos showed a child's belongings ("Unpacked"), a child growing up ("The Doorframe") and carers' everyday skills ("No Capes Required"). This is the first about emergency fostering, and the first to show the support Organic Fostering offers outside normal hours.

Timing

The clocks go back on Sunday 25 October, so post it in the week after, when the nights suddenly get darker. It stays relevant all winter.

SCRIPT

HOOK · 0–3 s

Visual: A slow drone push over a dark, rainy row of Manchester terraced houses at night. Click: one porch light turns on and glows warm orange.

On-screen text: When this light comes on, someone's ready.

Sound: rain, then a single soft "click".

THE CALL · 3–6 s

Visual: Inside a warm kitchen, the clock reads 9:47pm. A phone on the counter lights up and a man in his 40s answers calmly, nodding.

On-screen text: 9:47pm. A child needs somewhere safe tonight.

Voiceover: "Sometimes a child needs somewhere safe… tonight."

GETTING READY · 6–18 s

Visual: A quick, warm montage of about 3 seconds per shot, with the clock ticking in the corner:

1. Fresh sheets snap over a single bed in slow motion.
2. A star nightlight clicks on and a soft toy is placed on the pillow.
3. Milk warms in a pan; toast pops up.
4. Small slippers are set by the front door. Headlights sweep across the hallway window.

Voiceover: "Emergency foster carers get ready at short notice…"

THE ARRIVAL · 18–22 s

Visual: The front door opens to the rain. A social worker under an umbrella stands beside a small child in a too-big coat, holding a teddy (face hidden by the hood). The carer kneels to eye level and smiles.

On-screen text (subtitle): "Hiya. You must be cold. Fancy some toast?"

PAYOFF · 22–26 s

Visual: A close-up by the radiator: tiny wet trainers drying next to a pair of big slippers. Warm light, rain on the window behind.

On-screen text: Ready when it matters. Never on your own.

Voiceover: "…and with advice outside normal hours, you're never on your own."

CTA · 26–30 s

Visual: Back outside, the camera rises from the glowing porch into the rainy night sky, then fades to the end card on the magenta-to-orange gradient with the OF logo.

On-screen text: Could you leave the light on? · Start the conversation · 0161 241 1332 · organicfostering.co.uk · Rated Good by Ofsted

Voiceover: "Could you leave the light on? Start the conversation with Organic Fostering."

AI PRODUCTION

Style line: add to every prompt

Photorealistic, vertical 9:16, cinematic night scene, steady rain, warm tungsten interior light against cool blue exterior, shallow depth of field, cosy UK terraced home, natural skin texture, film grain, no text, no logos.

Example prompts

- Hook: slow aerial drone shot over a row of Victorian red-brick terraced houses in Manchester at night in heavy rain; wet street reflecting streetlights; one porch light switches on, glowing warm orange.

- The call: a calm man in his 40s in a warm UK kitchen at night answers a mobile phone and nods; the wall clock shows 9:47; rain on the window behind him.
- The arrival: a front door opens onto a rainy night; a social worker with an umbrella stands beside a small child in an oversized raincoat with the hood up, face hidden, holding a teddy; a man kneels in the warm doorway, smiling gently.

Tips

- Use one reference image of the carer so he looks the same in every shot.
- Add the clock overlay, subtitles and phone screen text in the edit, not in the AI generation.
- Keep the child's face hidden throughout.

Sound

- Steady rain throughout, a soft ticking clock, a phone buzz, the snap of sheets, a toaster pop and the front door opening.
- A quiet, warm piano that swells gently at the arrival.
- A calm, warm Northern English voiceover, about 40 words, leaving room for the sound to tell the story.

CAPTION

As the nights draw in, some children need a safe place at very short notice. 🌧️🏡

Emergency foster carers are ready when it matters, and with advice outside normal hours, they're never on their own.

Could you leave the light on? Start with an informal chat.

📞 0161 241 1332 · organicfostering.co.uk

Drop a 💡 if you'd leave the light on.

#Fostering #EmergencyFostering #FosterCarer #BecomeAFosterCarer #ManchesterFostering #NorthWestFostering #OrganicFostering

SAFEGUARDING AND COPY CHECK

- Turn on Instagram's "AI info" label and add the on-screen note "AI-generated imagery. Not a real child."
- Never use likenesses of real children in care. The child's face stays hidden.
- Emergency fostering, advice outside normal hours, the informal first conversation and "Rated Good by Ofsted" all come from organicfostering.co.uk.
- The story and the time on the clock are illustrative.