Concept

Who it's for

Owners of UK businesses whose website gets visits but not enquiries. Hulk's website design page puts it bluntly: "Traffic without enquiries is just expensive vanity."

The idea

The whole film is one lime line on forest black, and the line is a visitor. As it moves, it draws the website it's looking at. First a hero section. Then it gets stuck: it stutters forward in jerky bursts, zigzags through a jumble of grey text and drifts towards the edge of the screen, about to leave.

Then the page re-forms around one clear route. The line turns back in and runs straight down, and each section of the page grows out of it as it passes: trust, services, a form, then a button it loops into a tick. The camera pulls back and the whole website turns out to be one unbroken line, the detour still there as a faint grey scribble. The payoff line is from Hulk's homepage: "Turn a visit into a next step."

HOOK · FIRST 3 SECONDS
This line is your next customer.

PAYOFF LINE
Turn a visit into a next step.

Why it works

- The hook makes the viewer watch one dot. People follow a moving line to see where it goes, and the six-word hook tells them why it matters.
- It shows the method, not just the result. The website design page says Hulk agrees "hierarchy and journeys before visual polish". Here the journey literally comes first and the page grows around it.
- The voiceover is built from Hulk's own words. The problems ("Slow loads and unclear messaging push people away") and the route ("from first impression to enquiry") come straight from the site.
- One small next step. The free audit gives a live growth score in 30 seconds with no signup, and it grades speed and conversion, the two things the line struggles with.

Why it's new

Hulk's animations so far are SaaS interfaces (21:47, Hulk OS), 2D characters (The Marketing Gym) and paper craft (The Pop-Up Book). This is the first in a single-line style: no interface chrome, no clicking cursor, no characters and no rewind. It's also the first piece led on website design and conversion rather than search, ads or automation.

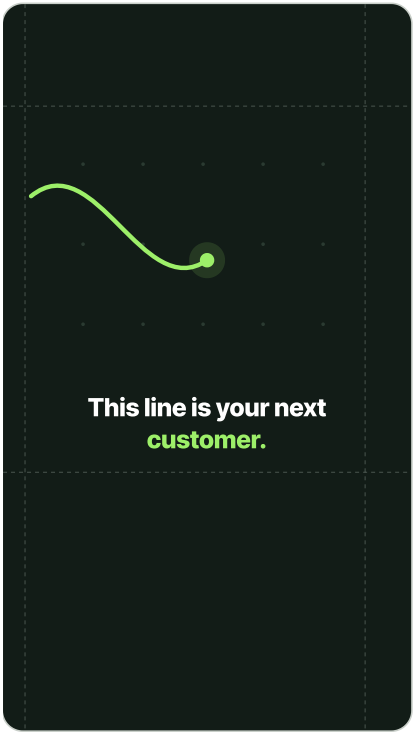

What Pinterest showed

Four logged-out searches on 2 Nov 2026 ("continuous line animation", "single line drawing motion design", "user journey animation", "line animation motion graphics dark"), read from the search grids only, since pins need a login.

- Popular: one-line drawings that never lift the pen (a bike, a face, flowers) and dark minimal motion with a single glowing line.
- Common in "user journey": dashed routes with map pins and busy journey maps full of icons and personas.
- We borrow: the unbroken line and the dark, glowing minimalism.
- We avoid: pins, dashed map routes, personas and infographics. The route is the page itself.

Storyboard · six key frames

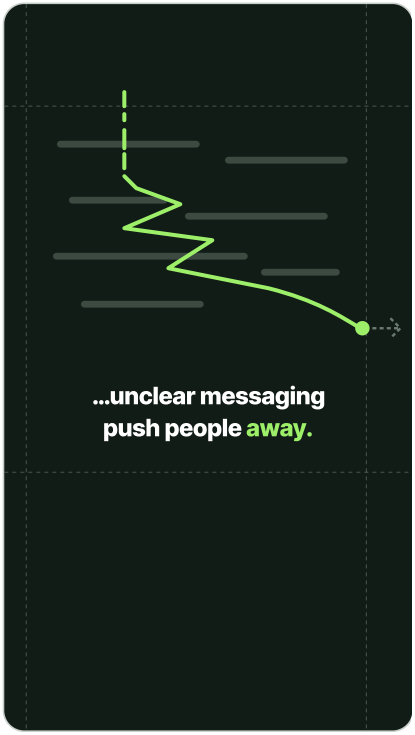

Layout sketches in Hulk's colours. The dashed lines mark the text-safe area at 1080×1920 (y = 270–1240 px, x = 60–960 px), clear of the Reels caption area and buttons. Captions are the voiceover, with one key word in lime.

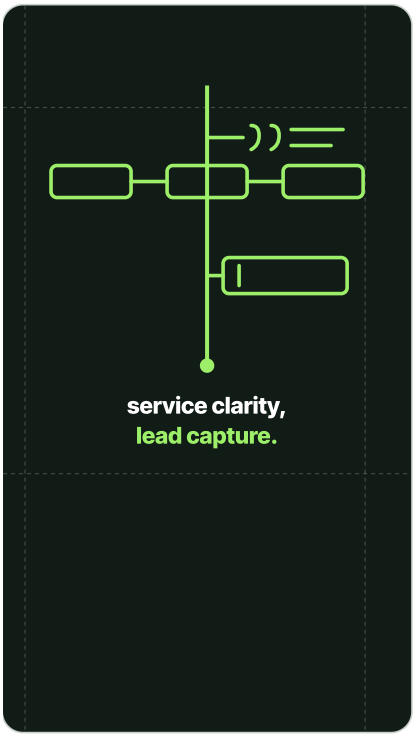

1 · Hook · 0:02
A dot appears on "line" and starts drawing. On "customer" it stops and pulses once.

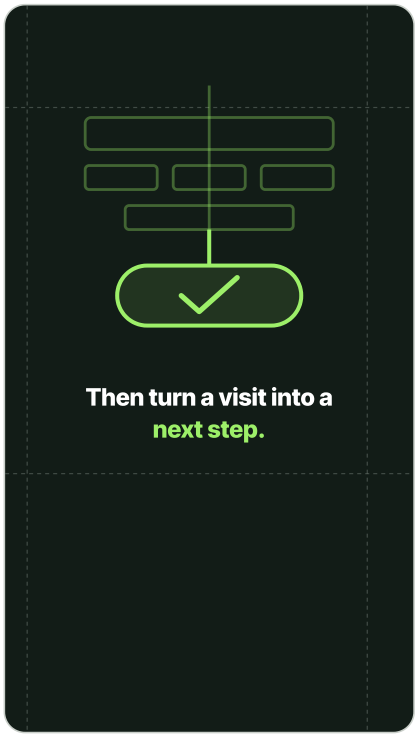

2 · First impression · 0:06
The line draws a brand-first hero in one stroke. On "under a second" a thin ring closes round the dot.

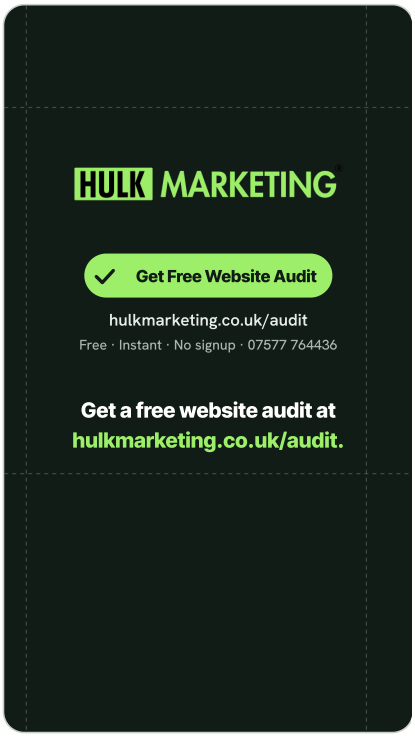

3 · Near miss · 0:11
Jerky, stuttering bursts, a zigzag through grey jumble, then a drift to the edge, about to leave.

4 · The route · 0:18
The page re-forms round one straight route. Trust, three service cards and a form field grow out of the line on their words.

5 · Next step · 0:23
The line draws a button and loops into a tick inside it. The page above dims, its job done.

6 · End card · 0:32
The real logo fades in on "Get". The ticked pill from beat 5 fills lime and becomes the site's own "Get Free Website Audit" button, then the URL.

Script and sync sheet · 34 seconds

64 spoken words, about 26 seconds of speech at a calm 150 words a minute, inside a 34-second edit. The captions are the voiceover, word for word, except that the web address appears as "hulkmarketing.co.uk/audit". Lime words are cue words: the element on the right enters exactly on that word.

BEAT	VOICEOVER = CAPTIONS	ON SCREEN
1 · Hook 0:00–0:03.5	"This line is your next customer."	• Forest black with a faint dot grid. line → a lime dot appears and starts drawing a soft curve. • customer → the dot stops and pulses once.
2 · First impression 0:03.5–0:08	"First impressions decide trust in under a second."	• First impressions → in one stroke the line draws a brand-first hero: a frame, two headline bars, a button and an image box. • under a second → a thin ring closes round the dot in 0.8 s.
3 · Near miss 0:08–0:12.5	"Slow loads and unclear messaging push people away."	• Slow loads → the line stutters forward in jerky bursts. • unclear messaging → grey jumbled text bars appear and the line zigzags through them. • away → it drifts to the right edge and stops just short, a dotted grey arrow pointing out of frame.
4 · The route 0:12.5–0:19.5	"So we agree the journey before the pixels: trust-building content, service clarity, lead capture."	• journey → the jumble and the line's detour dim to grey-green, and the line turns back in, running straight down the middle. • Each section grows out of the line on its word: trust-building content → quote marks and two lines; service clarity → three clean cards; lead capture → a form field with a blinking text cursor.
5 · Next step 0:19.5–0:23.5	"Then turn a visit into a next step."	• next step → the line draws a pill button and loops into a tick inside it, with one soft lime glow. The page above dims.
6 · Pull-back 0:23.5–0:28	"Clear messaging. Thoughtful design. A simpler route to enquiry."	• The camera pulls back as each phrase lands: the whole website is one unbroken line, the detour a faint grey scribble. • simpler route → the route from hero to tick brightens.
7 · End card 0:28–0:34	"Get a free website audit at hulkmarketing dot co dot uk."	• Get → the real Hulk Marketing logo fades in. • free website audit → the ticked pill from beat 5 fills lime and becomes the site's "Get Free Website Audit" button, with "Free · Instant · No signup". • hulkmarketing dot co dot uk → "hulkmarketing.co.uk/audit" and 07577 764436 type in. Hold to 0:34.

Timing check: beats run 3.5 + 4.5 + 4.5 + 7 + 4 + 4.5 + 6 = 34 s with no gaps. Every line fits at 150 words a minute (the tightest are beats 4, 5 and 6, at 2 words a second). 15-second cut: beats 1, 2 and 5 (with "Then" dropped), then the end card trimmed to 3 s with "Get a free website audit." only: 3.5 + 4.5 + 4 + 3 = 15 s.

- One line, never lifted. Build it as a single shape-layer path in After Effects with Trim Paths, so the dot really is drawing. Sections grow from the main path as branches, never as separate pop-ins. Ease slow in, slow out (about 70%); the dot moves fastest in the near miss.
- Camera: a slow vertical drift that follows the dot, then one pull-back in beat 6. 30 fps, 1080×1920, motion blur on.
- Optional Cinema 4D finish: for the pull-back, sweep the same path into a thin lime neon tube with a little depth and glow.
- Type: Inter Tight ExtraBold captions in white with one lime key word; Hanken Grotesk for small labels. The real logo file is added on the end card and never redrawn.
- Sound: one soft synth tone that rises and falls with the line's height, a tiny tick as each section branches off, a stuttering tick on the jerky bursts, a breathy whoosh on the drift to the edge and a warm thump on the tick.
- Music: a licensed minimal pulse at about 96 BPM that drops out on "away" and returns on "journey".
- Voice: a calm British voice, close-mic. Mix the voice at about −16 LUFS and the master at −14 LUFS.
- Safe area: all captions, the logo, button, URL and phone stay between y = 270 and 1240 px and x = 60 and 960 px.
- LinkedIn cuts: 16:9 (1920×1080) and 1:1 (1080×1080) are re-laid out, not cropped: the route stays vertical, with captions centred in the lower third. Same 34 s voiceover and burned-in captions.

Caption and lead capture

Caption

This line is your next customer.

First impressions decide trust in under a second, and slow loads and unclear messaging push people away. So we agree the journey before the pixels: a brand-first hero, trust-building content, service clarity, lead capture and a conversion-ready call to action.

Turning views into leads

- Organic: "Comment ROUTE and we'll send you the free audit link." Reply to every comment by DM.
- Paid (Meta and LinkedIn): send clicks to /audit with the site's label, "Get Free Website Audit", aimed at UK small-business owners.
- Retargeting: show half-video viewers the booking page, "30 minutes with a senior. Not a sales call."
- Measure: audits run, meetings booked and ROUTE comments.
- Overlap check: compared with all of Hulk's earlier animations, AI videos and static posts (see page 1).

Before posting

- On 2 Nov 2026, /audit/, /book-a-meeting/ and /contact/ all loaded in full in Chromium. Check them again on a UK phone before launch.
- Don't link any pricing page that shows placeholder notes.
- The website in the film is a generic line drawing, not a client's site. No results or figures are claimed.
