Between the Prayers

An AI-generated reel about everyday life at the British Muslim Heritage Centre · made with Kling, Seedance or Veo · voiceover and captions · no music

CONCEPT

The idea

BMHC is "open every day of the year … including all five daily congregational prayers." This reel shows what happens in the hours between them, and it tells the story through one thing every masjid-goer knows: the shoe rack by the door.

The camera never films people praying and never shows a face. A locked-off shot of the rack keeps returning through the day: one pair at Fajr, a full rack at Jummah, a bride's embroidered khussa beside polished shoes at Maghrib for a nikah. In between, close-ups of hands show the life of the 1843 building: a child setting a book on a wooden stand, a taekwondo belt being tied, tea and books at an Isha study circle. The gates and the Gothic tower come from real photos of the Centre, so it's unmistakably BMHC.

HOOK · FIRST 5 SECONDS
"Five times a day, this building stops for prayer. What happens in between?"

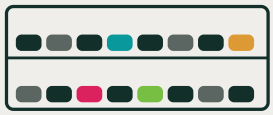

END LINE
"Five prayers, and a whole community in between. Find your place at bmhc.org.uk."

The shoe rack is the clock

FAJR
One pair, placed at first light.

JUMMAH
Full, with neat rows on the floor too.

MAGHRIB
Wedding shoes join the rack: a nikah.

ISHA
The last pairs, under lamplight.

Why it works

- An instant "that's us" moment. Anyone who prays at a masjid recognises a full shoe rack at Jummah. It stops the scroll and gets shared with a smile.
- Respectful by design. It shows that prayer is happening without filming worship, and it needs no AI faces at all: only hands, objects, light and the real building.
- It shows how much the Centre does. Every scene is a real BMHC service: daily prayers and Jummah, Qur'an classes, school visits, taekwondo, Scouts, youth clubs, nikah ceremonies and study circles.
- One clear next step: "Find your place" at bmhc.org.uk.

Why it's new

"The First Word" told BMHC's history and "Still Going" asked for Sadaqah Jariyah. This is the first piece in the campaign about everyday life inside the building, and its first AI video. On Pinterest, almost every "mosque cinematic" reel uses the same stock shots: umbrellas at the Prophet's Mosque, the green dome, crowds at the Kaaba and minarets at sunset with birds. We avoid all of them, because none of them is BMHC. We borrow only the slow golden-hour light through tall windows that the best "cinematic architecture" pins share. (Logged-out Pinterest searches on 31 Oct 2026: "mosque cinematic video", "masjid aesthetic reel", "ai video cinematic architecture morning light".)

SHOT LIST · 40.5 SECONDS

Captions are the voiceover, word for word, in Poppins. Teal words are cues: the label or chip enters on that word. Shots with no cue carry captions only. Prayer labels pair the English name with the Arabic, which is added in the edit from the text file (never generated by AI). All text sits between y = 270 and 1240 px of the 1080×1920 frame.

SHOT	VISUAL (ONE ACTION)	VOICEOVER = CAPTIONS · ON-SCREEN LABELS	SOUND
1 · Hook 0:00–0:05.5	Blue hour before dawn. The Centre's Gothic tower, built from a real photo. One window warms to amber. Slow push-in.	"Five times a day, this building stops for prayer. What happens in between?"	Dawn birds, distant city hum.
2 · Fajr 0:05.5–0:10	Mist on the lawn. The listed iron entrance gates, from a real photo. A gloved hand lifts the latch and swings one gate open.	"Fajr. The gates open on a building from 1843." Fajr · الفجر · Built 1843 · Grade II* listed	Latch clank, gate creak.
3 · The rack 0:10–0:12.5	The locked-off rack frame: an empty wooden shoe rack beside an arched oak door, cool dawn light. A hand sets one pair of black shoes on the top shelf.	"The first shoes arrive."	Two soft taps of leather on wood.
4 · Classes 0:12.5–0:16	Daylight through a tall stone-mullioned window. A child's small hands lay a closed, cloth-covered book on a wooden folding stand. The book stays closed.	"By day: Qur'an classes and school visits." Qur'an classes · School visits	Room tone, a chair settling.
5 · Jummah 0:16–0:19	The same rack frame at midday, every shelf full and neat rows of shoes on the floor. A hand adds one more pair to the end of a row.	"At Jummah, the rack fills up." Jummah · الجمعة	Shuffle of footsteps, then quiet.
6 · Youth 0:19–0:22.5	On a blue training mat, a child's hands knot a yellow belt over a white taekwondo uniform. Framed from the chest down.	"After Asr: taekwondo, Scouts and youth clubs." Asr · العصر · Taekwondo · Scouts · Youth clubs	Belt cinched tight, a distant whistle.
7 · Nikah 0:22.5–0:27.5	The rack frame in warm sunset light. Two hands set a pair of gold-embroidered bridal khussa beside polished men's shoes.	"At Maghrib, wedding shoes join the rack. A nikah is starting." Maghrib · المغرب · Nikah ceremonies	Soft rustle of fabric, a door closing gently.
8 · Isha 0:27.5–0:32	Lamplight on a low wooden table: small glasses of tea and open books, pages out of focus. A hand turns one page.	"By Isha, a study circle is turning pages over tea." Isha · العشاء · Study circles	Page turn, a glass set down.
9 · Night 0:32–0:36	The front of the building at night from a real photo, many windows lit. Slow pull-back across the dark lawn.	"Five prayers, and a whole community in between."	Night air, a car passing far off.
10 · End card 0:36–0:40.5	Designed, not AI: BMHC deep green, the real logo, the four colour bars.	"Find your place at bmhc dot org dot uk." Find your place · bmhc.org.uk with "College Road, Whalley Range, Manchester · Open every day of the year" beneath.	Silence, then the voice.

15-second cut for Stories: shots 1, 3 and 5, then the end card trimmed to 4 s (5.5 + 2.5 + 3 + 4 = 15 s). It keeps voiceover lines 1, 3, 5 and 10.

VOICEOVER · 84 WORDS

0:00	“Five times a day, this building stops for prayer. What happens in between?”
0:05.5	“Fajr. The gates open on a building from 1843.”
0:10	“The first shoes arrive.”
0:12.5	“By day: Qur’an classes and school visits.”
0:16	“At Jummah, the rack fills up.”
0:19	“After Asr: taekwondo, Scouts and youth clubs.”
0:22.5	“At Maghrib, wedding shoes join the rack. A nikah is starting.”
0:27.5	“By Isha, a study circle is turning pages over tea.”
0:32	“Five prayers, and a whole community in between.”
0:36	“Find your place at bmhc dot org dot uk.”

Every line fits its shot at a calm 150 words a minute, counting “1843” as three spoken words. Record a real person, ideally one of the Centre’s own Heritage Radio presenters, who says Fajr, Jummah, Asr, Maghrib, Isha and nikah naturally. Don’t use an AI voice.

AI PROMPTS · 9:16, IMAGE TO VIDEO

Workflow. (1) Photograph the real tower, gates and front at blue hour, midday and night; these are the start frames for shots 1, 2 and 9, so the building is BMHC’s own. (2) Make one master rack image (locked camera, 35 mm, eye level). Then use an image editor to add shoes only, making the start frames for shots 3, 5 and 7. Each shot’s end frame is the next rack scene’s base, so the rack, door and light never shift. (3) Generate 2–3 takes of each 5 s clip and trim to the timings. (4) Add every word in the edit.

1 · Tower. Photoreal, start frame = real photo of the Gothic stone tower. Blue hour before dawn, cold sky, a single upper window slowly warms to soft amber. Very slow push-in, still air, faint mist, 35 mm, natural colour. No people.

2 · Gates. Start frame = real photo of the iron entrance gates. Early-morning mist over a lawn. A hand in a dark wool glove lifts the latch and slowly swings one gate open. Shallow depth of field, cool light. Only the hand and sleeve visible.

3 · First pair. Start frame = master rack image: an empty wooden shoe rack beside an arched oak door, cool dawn light from the left. A hand in a long sleeve sets one pair of black leather shoes on the top shelf, then withdraws. Locked-off camera. End frame becomes the base for shot 5.

4 · Book stand. Daylight through a tall stone-mullioned Victorian window. A child’s small hands, in long sleeves, lay a closed book with a plain dark-green cloth cover onto a carved wooden folding book stand. The book stays closed. Dust in the light, macro, soft focus behind.

5 · Jummah. Start frame = same rack, every shelf full of varied shoes and trainers and neat rows on the stone floor, bright midday light. A hand places one more pair at the end of a row. Locked-off camera.

6 · Belt. On a blue foam training mat, a child’s hands tie a yellow belt over a white martial-arts uniform, pulling the knot tight. Framed chest-down, no face, bright sports-hall light, shallow depth of field.

7 · Wedding shoes. Start frame = same rack, half full, in warm sunset light through the open oak door. Two hands set a pair of gold-embroidered bridal khussa shoes beside a pair of polished black men’s shoes on the middle shelf. Locked-off camera.

8 · Study circle. Night, warm lamplight. A low wooden table with small clear glasses of amber tea and two open books whose pages are soft and out of focus. A hand slowly turns one page. Macro, shallow depth of field.

9 · Night. Start frame = real night photo of the building front. Many windows glowing warm, dark sky. Slow pull-back across the lawn. 35 mm, natural colour.

Negative prompt (all shots). faces, heads, people praying, crowds, text, letters, Arabic script, calligraphy, Qur’an pages, signs, logos, brand logos on shoes, domes, minarets, Kaaba, green dome, lanterns, crescent moons, cartoon, illustration, distorted hands, extra fingers, warped architecture, flicker.

ISLAMIC GUIDELINES CHECK

- No faces and no people at prayer. Only hands and sleeves appear. The shoe rack shows that prayer is happening without filming worship. There's no depiction of the Prophet ﷺ, angels or the Companions.
- No AI Arabic, Qur'an pages, calligraphy, signs or logos. The book stays closed. The Arabic prayer names are typed in the edit from the text file supplied with this PDF, and BMHC's imam checks them.
- No music, and no adhan used as a sound effect. The soundtrack is the narrator and natural sound only.
- Modesty. Long sleeves on every adult hand. The only wedding detail is the shoes.
- Honest. The day is a composite. The caption says "Scenes from across the week" and "Made with AI", and Instagram's AI label is switched on. Any shot can be swapped for real footage of the Centre, which is the best option for the exteriors.
