Bodyrade: “Since 7am.”

Animated video concept · 3D product animation with motion-graphics type · Instagram Reels, TikTok and Facebook · 9:16, 27 seconds · plus a 4:5 feed cut

CONCEPT

The idea

Plenty of people load their pre-workout in the morning and train after work. This animation shows that day from inside the gym bag. A top-down camera looks into an open bag at 07:00: a plain shaker with powder already in the bottom, and the Mixology Bottle with its capsule loaded. A big clock rolls through the day while the light through the zip changes from cold morning blue to warm afternoon orange.

Your website describes what happens next in its own words: once exposed to air, light or moisture, “even just being stored at the bottom of a shaker bottle inside a gym bag”, ingredients start to degrade. So the shaker’s powder slowly cakes, while the capsule stays sealed. At 17:40 the bottle lifts out of the bag into your navy studio, takes its ice-cold water, and at 18:00 you twist, release and shake. The end line is yours too: Activate at the moment of use.

HOOK · FIRST 4 SECONDS

In your gym bag. Since 07:00.

END LINE

Activate at the moment of use.

What I found

- Website (bodyrade.com, checked 31 Oct 2026): the home page explains the problem (“degradation starts the moment they leave their original packaging”) and the routine: “load the capsule before the day ahead”, add cold water “twenty minutes before training”, then “twist and release the capsule contents into the water when ready”. Its lines include “Activate at the Moment of Use”, “Fresh every time” and “ONLY MIX IT FRESH”. Every Register button goes to bodyrade.com/pages/contact, and the flavours are still “coming soon”.
- Your earlier concepts: “Twist. Drop. Fresh.” freezes the moment of use and “Locked In Fresh.” shows the engineering. Neither shows time passing, which is the whole reason the capsule exists.
- Pinterest (logged-out search grids): supplement 3D animations are almost all a tub or bottle spinning on a coloured backdrop, on fire, or with fruit and pills flying past. “What’s in my gym bag” top-down shots are one of the most pinned fitness formats, because everyone recognises their own bag.

Why it works

- It tells the problem as a story. A clock everyone reads instantly, ticking through a day everyone has lived, makes “degradation starts the moment it leaves the pack” something you can see.
- It’s relatable before it’s a product ad. The first three seconds look like a “what’s in my gym bag” video, so people don’t scroll past an ad.
- It teaches the routine. Morning load, water twenty minutes before, twist when ready: viewers learn how to use the bottle without a single instruction slide.
- Every element lands on its word. The clock, each hazard word, the SEALED pill, the water, the twist and the bloom all appear on the spoken or on-screen word that names them, so it works with sound on or off.

Why it’s new

Your earlier concepts are single frozen moments. This is the first one built on time: the hours between loading the capsule and drinking it, which is where the Mixology Bottle earns its place. It borrows the gym-bag view from Pinterest and skips the spinning tubs, fire and fruit explosions everyone else uses.

STORYBOARD: SIX KEY FRAMES

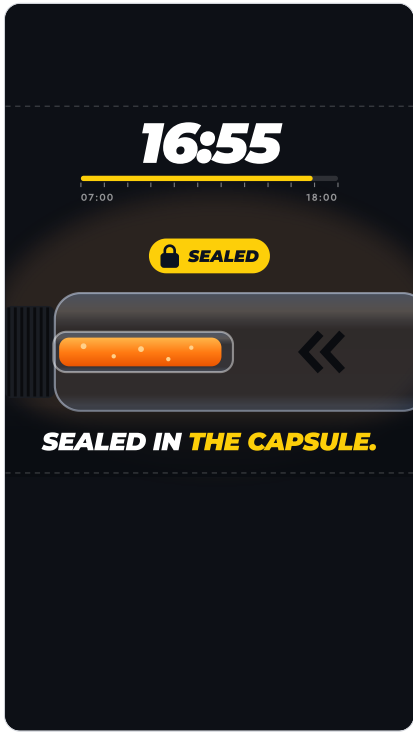

Layout sketches in your colours and type; the final is a 3D render. The dashed lines mark the text-safe area (y = 270 to 1240 px at 1080 × 1920): every word sits between them, clear of the Reels caption area and buttons.

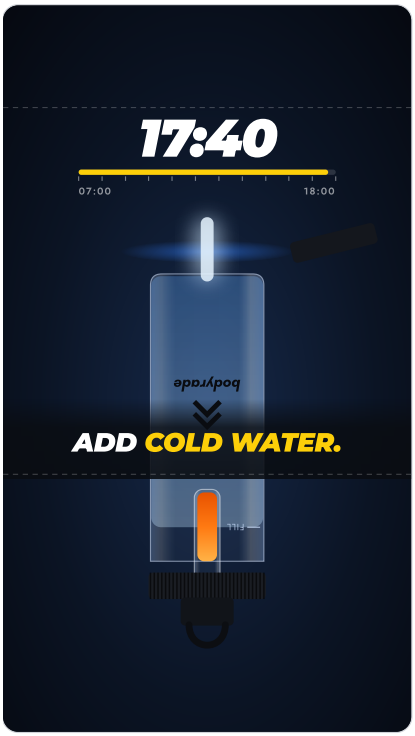

1 · Hook · 0:04
The zip rips open on a top-down view of a gym bag. On “since seven” the clock slams to 07:00 and the day bar appears.

2 · The day · 0:09
The clock rolls through the day as the light changes. On “moisture” beads form in the shaker; on “degrade” its powder cakes.

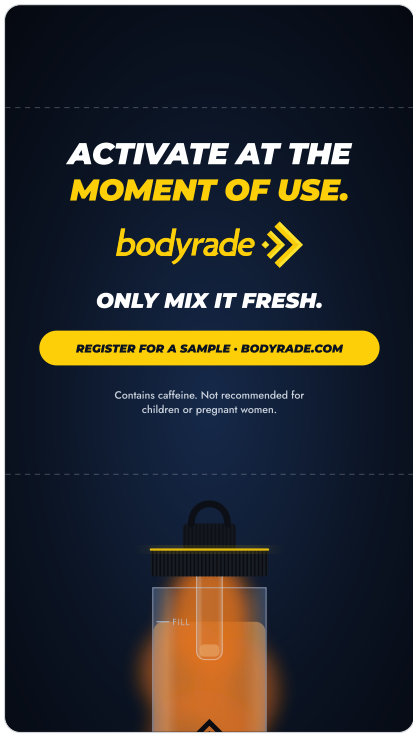

3 · Sealed · 0:13
Push-in on the capsule. On “sealed” a yellow SEALED pill clicks on; the powder inside is still loose.

4 · Water · 0:16.5
The bottle lifts out into the studio. On “cold water” it turns over, the base comes off and water pours in to the line.

5 · Twist · 0:20
At 18:00 the cap twists with a yellow arc. On “release” the Orange & Mango powder blooms into the water.

6 · End card · 0:26
Headline, real logo, ONLY MIX IT FRESH., the sample pill and the caffeine line, all inside the safe area.

SCRIPT AND SYNC SHEET

27 seconds at 120 BPM, so every beat change falls on a half-second. 52 spoken words, about 21 seconds at a calm 150 words a minute. The voiceover is optional; the on-screen words work with the sound off. Highlighted words are cues: each element enters on its word.

BEAT	VOICEOVER	ON SCREEN	WHAT MOVES
1 · Hook 0:00–0:04.5	"Your pre-workout's been in your gym bag since seven."	IN YOUR GYM BAG SINCE 07:00.	• 0:00 a zip rips open on a top-down view of a gym bag: a plain shaker with powder in the bottom, and the Mixology Bottle, capsule loaded. • gym bag: the first line types in. • seven: the clock slams to 07:00 and the yellow day bar appears.
2 · The day 0:04.5–0:11	"Air, light, moisture. It starts to degrade the moment it leaves the pack."	AIR. LIGHT. MOISTURE.	• The clock rolls 08:15, 12:30, 15:45, 17:30 and the day bar fills; the light through the zip turns from cold blue to warm orange. • Air, light, moisture: each word stamps in; on "moisture" beads form in the shaker. • degrade: the shaker's powder darkens and cakes. The Mixology Bottle doesn't change.
3 · Sealed 0:11–0:14	"Ours stays sealed in the capsule."	SEALED IN THE CAPSULE.	• Ours: push-in on the capsule; the shaker leaves frame. • sealed: a yellow SEALED pill with a padlock clicks on. The powder inside is still loose.
4 · Water 0:14–0:17.5	"Twenty minutes before training, add cold water."	17:40 ADD COLD WATER.	• Twenty minutes: 17:40; the bottle rises out of the bag into the navy studio. • cold water: it turns over, the base unscrews, ice-cold water pours to the fill line and the base screws back on.
5 · Twist 0:17.5–0:20.5	"When you're ready, twist and release."	18:00 TWIST. RELEASE.	• The clock lands on 18:00 and the full day bar flashes. • twist: the cap turns with a yellow arc; light glows at the collar. • release: the Orange & Mango powder blooms into the water in slow orange clouds, as in your capsule video.
6 · Shake 0:20.5–0:23	"Shake. Fresh every time."	FRESH EVERY TIME.	• Shake: three hard shakes, motion blur, ice clinks. • Fresh every time: the bottle settles, glowing orange, with condensation and a yellow rim light.
7 · End card 0:23–0:27	"Activate at the moment of use. Bodyrade."	ACTIVATE AT THE MOMENT OF USE. ONLY MIX IT FRESH.	• Activate: the headline stamps in above the bottle. • Bodyrade: the real logo slides in, then ONLY MIX IT FRESH., the "Register for a sample · BODYRADE.COM" pill and the caffeine line.

4:5 feed cut (1080 × 1350, 14.5 s): beats 1, 3, 5 and 7 (4.5 + 3 + 3 + 4 s). The clock jumps from 07:00 to 18:00 and the bottle appears already filled. Voiceover: "Your pre-workout's been in your gym bag since seven. Ours stays sealed in the capsule. When you're ready, twist and release. Activate at the moment of use. Bodyrade." Keep words 60 px from every edge for the 3:4 profile-grid crop.

LOOK, MOTION AND SOUND

- Act 1, inside the bag: a locked-off top-down macro shot. Real fabric, a towel, earbuds case and keys, all unbranded. Time passes through light alone: a beam through the zip that changes angle and colour with the clock.
- Act 2, the studio: your navy set from the brand video: glossy black floor, cold blue rim light, a yellow ring of light at the collar.
- The bottle: tall clear cylinder, wide threaded mouth, printed fill line; one black ribbed collar with the slim capsule tube hanging from it; small black screw cap with carry loop; black screw base; black chevron logo. Check against your CAD.
- The shaker: plain and unbranded, never a competitor. Its caking is a subtle dramatisation: moisture beads and a darker crust.
- Type and UI: Montserrat Black Italic (close to the pack lettering) for the clock and headlines, Jost for small text; a yellow day bar and a SEALED pill. Logo yellow #FDCF09, navy, black and the flavour orange.
- Motion: the clock rolls like an odometer; words stamp in with a small overshoot; the move from bag to studio is one continuous crane up as the bottle rises to the lens.
- Sound: a zip rip, a clock tick that speeds up, muffled sounds of each hour from inside the bag (bus brakes, office chatter, a car indicator), a padlock click, water pouring, a cap twist, a soft whoosh on the bloom, ice on the shake, a hit on the logo.
- Music: a minimal electronic track at 120 BPM that stays ticking and restrained until 18:00, then drops on the twist.
- Voice: optional; calm, British, a dry edge. Burn in captions if used.
- How to make it: Cinema 4D or Blender for the bag, bottle and liquid (the bloom as a fluid sim or ink-in-water footage), type in After Effects. Model the bottle from your own render.

POST KIT

Caption (Instagram)

Your pre-workout. In your gym bag. Since 7am. ⏰

Creatine absorbs moisture from the air. Once your pre-workout is out of the pack, even at the bottom of a shaker in your gym bag, it starts to degrade.

So we keep it sealed. Load the capsule in the morning, add ice-cold water twenty minutes before training, then twist, release, shake.

Activate at the moment of use.

5g Creatine · 2.5g Citrulline Malate · 1.5g Beta-Alanine · 200mg Caffeine · 200mg L-Theanine per 10g serving. Contains caffeine. Not recommended for children or pregnant women.

- From bodyrade.com: the freshness problem, the four steps, "twenty minutes before training", "Activate at the Moment of Use", "Fresh every time", "ONLY MIX IT FRESH", "Register for a sample", the formula, and the sample link.
- Needs your evidence for ads (CAP 3.7): "It starts to degrade the moment it leaves the pack" is your website's claim, and the caked shaker dramatises it. Hold test data, or soften the line to "Air, light, moisture. It's been sitting in all three all day." and add a small "Dramatisation" label.
- Caffeine: the site has no warning wording, so swap in the wording from your pack label.
- Left out: "No clumping, no potency loss", "airtight", "world's first multi patented" and the site's blood flow, energy and strength claims (UK health-claim rules).
