Between the Prayers

An AI-generated reel about everyday life at the British Muslim Heritage Centre · made with Kling, Seedance or Veo · voiceover and captions · no music

CONCEPT

The idea

BMHC is "open every day of the year … including all five daily congregational prayers." This reel shows what happens in the hours between them, and it tells the story through one thing every masjid-goer knows: the shoe rack by the door.

The camera never films people praying and never shows a face. A locked-off shot of the rack keeps returning through the day: one pair at Fajr, a full rack at Jummah, a bride's embroidered khussa beside polished shoes at Maghrib for a nikah. In between, close-ups of hands show the life of the 1843 building: a child setting a book on a wooden stand, a taekwondo belt being tied, tea beside closed books at an Isha study circle. The gates and the Gothic tower come from real photos of the Centre, so it's unmistakably BMHC.

HOOK · FIRST 6 SECONDS
"Five times a day, this building stops for prayer. Here's what happens in between."

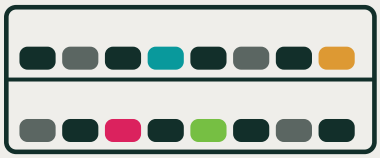

END LINE
"Five prayers, and a whole community in between. Find your place at BMHC."

The shoe rack is the clock

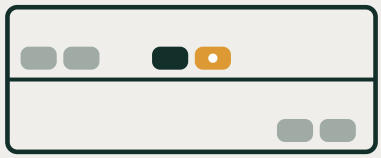

FAJR
One pair, placed at first light.

JUMMAH
Full, with neat rows on the floor too.

MAGHRIB
Wedding shoes join the rack: a nikah.

Why it works

- An instant "that's us" moment. Anyone who prays at a masjid recognises a full shoe rack at Jummah. It stops the scroll and gets shared with a smile.
- Respectful by design. It shows that prayer is happening without filming worship, and it needs no AI faces at all: only hands, objects, light and the real building.
- It shows how much the Centre does. Every scene is a real BMHC service: daily prayers and Jummah, Qur'an classes, school visits, taekwondo, Scouts, youth clubs, nikah ceremonies and study circles.
- One clear next step: "Find your place at BMHC".

Why it's new

"The First Word" told BMHC's history and "Still Going" asked for Sadaqah Jariyah. This is the first piece in the campaign about everyday life inside the building, and its first AI video. On Pinterest, almost every "mosque cinematic" reel uses the same stock shots: umbrellas at the Prophet's Mosque, the green dome, crowds at the Kaaba and minarets at sunset with birds. We avoid all of them, because none of them is BMHC. We borrow only the slow golden-hour light through tall windows that the best "cinematic architecture" pins share. (Logged-out Pinterest searches, 31 Oct 2026.)

SHOT LIST · 39.5 SECONDS

Captions are the voiceover, word for word, in Poppins. Teal words are cues: the label or chip enters on that word. Shots with no cue carry captions only. Prayer labels pair the English name with the Arabic, which is added in the edit from the text file (never generated by AI). All text sits between y = 270 and 1240 px and x = 60 and 960 px of the 1080×1920 frame.

SHOT	VISUAL (ONE ACTION)	VOICEOVER = CAPTIONS · ON-SCREEN LABELS	SOUND
1 · Hook 0:00–0:06	Blue hour before dawn. The Centre's Gothic tower, built from a real photo. One window warms to amber. Slow push-in.	"Five times a day, this building stops for prayer. Here's what happens in between."	Dawn birds, distant city hum.
2 · Fajr 0:06–0:10.5	Mist on the lawn. The listed iron entrance gates, from a real photo. A gloved hand pushes one gate open.	"Fajr. The gates open on an 1843 building." Fajr · الفجر Built 1843 · Grade II* listed	A slow gate creak.
3 · The rack 0:10.5–0:13	The locked-off rack frame: an empty wooden shoe rack beside an arched oak door, cool dawn light. A hand sets one pair of black shoes on the top shelf.	"The first shoes arrive."	Two soft taps of leather on wood.
4 · Classes 0:13–0:16.5	Daylight through a tall stone-mullioned window. A child's small hands lay a closed, cloth-covered book on a wooden folding stand. The book stays closed.	"By day: Qur'an classes and school visits." Qur'an classes School visits	Room tone, a chair settling.
5 · Jummah 0:16.5–0:19.5	The same rack frame at midday, every shelf full and neat rows of shoes on the floor. A hand adds one more pair to the end of a row.	"At Jummah, the rack fills up." Jummah · الجمعة	Shuffle of footsteps, then quiet.
6 · Youth 0:19.5–0:22.5	On a blue training mat, a child's hands pull a loose yellow belt into a knot over a white taekwondo uniform. Framed from the chest down.	"Then taekwondo, Scouts and youth clubs." Taekwondo Scouts Youth clubs	Belt cinched tight, a distant whistle.
7 · Nikah 0:22.5–0:27.5	The rack frame in warm sunset light. One person's hands set a pair of gold-embroidered bridal khussa beside polished men's shoes.	"At Maghrib, wedding shoes join the rack. A nikah is starting." Maghrib · المغرب Nikah ceremonies	Soft rustle of fabric, a door closing gently.
8 · Isha 0:27.5–0:31.5	Lamplight on a low wooden table with two closed books. One hand sets a small glass of tea beside them.	"By Isha, a study circle gathers over tea." Isha · العشاء Study circles	A glass set down on wood.
9 · Night 0:31.5–0:35.5	The front of the building at night, from a real photo with many windows lit. A slow move from a tight crop out to the full photo.	"Five prayers, and a whole community in between."	Night air, a car passing far off.
10 · End card 0:35.5–0:39.5	Designed, not AI: BMHC deep green, the real logo, the four colour bars.	"Find your place at BMHC." Find your place logo bmhc.org.uk + "Prayer rooms open every day of the year", the address and the AI line (p. 4).	Silence, then the voice.

15-second cut for Stories: shots 1, 3 and 5, then the end card trimmed to 3.5 s (6 + 2.5 + 3 + 3.5 = 15 s). It keeps voiceover lines 1, 3, 5 and 10.

VOICEOVER · 77 WORDS

0:00	“Five times a day, this building stops for prayer. Here’s what happens in between.”
0:06	“Fajr. The gates open on an 1843 building.”
0:10.5	“The first shoes arrive.”
0:13	“By day: Qur’an classes and school visits.”
0:16.5	“At Jummah, the rack fills up.”
0:19.5	“Then taekwondo, Scouts and youth clubs.”
0:22.5	“At Maghrib, wedding shoes join the rack. A nikah is starting.”
0:27.5	“By Isha, a study circle gathers over tea.”
0:31.5	“Five prayers, and a whole community in between.”
0:35.5	“Find your place at BMHC.”

Every line fits its shot at a calm 150 words a minute, counting “1843” as three spoken words. Record a real person, ideally one of the Centre’s own Heritage Radio presenters, who says Fajr, Jummah, Maghrib, Isha and nikah naturally. Don’t use an AI voice.

AI PROMPTS · 9:16, IMAGE TO VIDEO

Workflow. (1) Photograph the real tower, gates and front at blue hour, midday and night; these are the start frames for shots 1, 2 and 9, so the building is BMHC’s own. (2) Make one master rack image (locked camera, 35 mm, eye level). Edit only the shoes and the light on this master plate to make the start frames for shots 3, 5 and 7; each end frame = its start frame plus the added pair, so the rack, door and camera never shift. (3) Generate 2–3 takes of each 5 s clip (10 s for shot 1) with audio off, because the tools can add music or voices, and trim to the timings. (4) Add every word in the edit.

1 · Tower. Photoreal, start frame = real photo of the Gothic stone tower. Blue hour before dawn, cold sky, a single upper window slowly warms to soft amber. Very slow push-in, still air, faint mist, 35 mm, natural colour. No people.

2 · Gates. Start frame = real photo of the iron entrance gates. Early-morning mist over a lawn. A hand in a dark wool glove slowly pushes one gate open. Shallow depth of field, cool light. Only the hand and sleeve visible.

3 · First pair. Start frame = master rack image: an empty wooden shoe rack beside an arched oak door, cool dawn light from the left. A hand in a long sleeve sets one pair of black leather shoes on the top shelf, then withdraws. Locked-off camera.

4 · Book stand. Start frame = the empty wooden book stand by the window. Daylight through a tall stone-mullioned Victorian window. A child’s small hands, in long sleeves, lay a closed book with a plain dark-green cloth cover onto a carved wooden folding book stand. The book stays closed. Dust in the light, macro, soft focus behind.

5 · Jummah. Start frame = same rack, every shelf full of varied shoes and trainers and neat rows on the stone floor, bright midday light. One person’s hand, in a long sleeve, places one more pair at the end of a row. Locked-off camera.

6 · Belt. Start frame = a loose yellow belt hanging untied over a white martial-arts uniform; end frame = the belt knotted. On a blue foam training mat, a child’s hands pull the knot tight. Framed chest-down, no face, bright sports-hall light, shallow depth of field.

7 · Wedding shoes. Start frame = same rack, half full, in warm sunset light through the open oak door. One person’s hands, in long sleeves, set a pair of gold-embroidered bridal khussa shoes beside a pair of polished black men’s shoes on the middle shelf. Locked-off camera.

8 · Study circle. Start frame = the table with two closed books with plain cloth covers. Night, warm lamplight. One person’s hand, in a long sleeve, sets a small clear glass of amber tea beside the books. Macro, shallow depth of field.

9 · Night. Start frame = a tight crop of the real night photo of the building front; end frame = the full photo. Many windows glowing warm, dark sky. Slow, smooth zoom out. 35 mm, natural colour.

Negative prompt (all shots). faces, heads, people praying, crowds, text, letters, Arabic script, calligraphy, Qur’an pages, signs, logos, brand logos on shoes, domes, minarets, Kaaba, green dome, lanterns, crescent moons, cartoon, illustration, distorted hands, extra fingers, warped architecture, flicker.

ISLAMIC GUIDELINES CHECK

- No faces and no people at prayer. Only hands and sleeves appear. The shoe rack shows that prayer is happening without filming worship. There's no depiction of the Prophet ﷺ, angels or the Companions.
- No AI Arabic, Qur'an pages, calligraphy, signs or logos. Books stay closed. The Arabic prayer names are typed in the edit from the text file supplied with this PDF, and BMHC's imam checks them.
- No music, and no adhan used as a sound effect. The soundtrack is the narrator and natural sound only.
- Modesty. Long sleeves on every adult hand. The only wedding detail is the shoes.
- Honest. The day is a composite. The caption and end card say "AI-generated scenes of a typical week; the building is from our own photos", and the AI label is switched on for both Instagram and Facebook. Any shot can be swapped for real footage of the Centre, which is the best option for the exteriors.

CAPTION AND CALL TO ACTION

Instagram caption

Five times a day, our building stops for prayer. Here's what happens in between.

By day, Qur'an classes and school visits. At Jummah, a full shoe rack. Then taekwondo, Scouts and youth clubs. Nikahs, and study circles over tea.

Our prayer rooms are open every day of the year, for all five daily prayers.
