With the Rain

An Islamic reminder about hardship and ease for the British Muslim Heritage Centre · made with Kling, Seedance or Veo · voiceover, captions and a vocal-only nasheed bed

CONCEPT

The idea

Manchester knows rain, and everyone knows heavy days. The reel opens on rain down a tall window and a figure, seen from behind, at a bus stop. Then everything goes quiet and BMHC's imam recites Qur'an 94:5–6: "For indeed, with hardship [will be] ease. Indeed, with hardship [will be] ease."

The reminder sits in one small word. The verse says مَعَ, with: not only after the hardship, but with it. So the reel shows ease arriving while it is still raining: a clear umbrella tilted over someone's shoulder, a mug of tea, a phone lighting up with a call, and the Centre's front door, open and warm. It ends on BMHC's own words for its Imam Counselling: "Whatever you are going through, support is just a conversation away."

HOOK · FIRST 3.5 SECONDS
"Manchester knows rain. Some days, so do we."

END LINE
"Whatever you are going through, support is just a conversation away."

THE HARDSHIP
Rain
Rain on glass, a bus stop at night, a weight nobody else can see.

THE WORD
Silence, the recitation, then one word in gold: with, not only after.

THE EASE
Still raining
An umbrella shared, tea, a call, an open door, all in the rain.

Why it works

- It feels like home. Rain is Manchester's everyday weather, so the reminder lands somewhere familiar.
- An insight, not a quote card. The verse is widely shared; noticing the word "with" gives people something to keep.
- It leads to real help: BMHC's Imam Counselling, "confidential and caring guidance grounded in Islamic teachings", with Samaritans and NHS 111 signposted for anyone who needs urgent help.
- Respectful by design. No faces, the recitation by a person, and a vocal-only bed that falls silent under the Qur'an.

Why it's new

Earlier BMHC pieces covered learning ("The First Word"), life in the building ("Between the Prayers"), Sadaqah Jariyah ("Still Going") and salam ("It Comes Back"). This is the first about wellbeing, the first to promote Imam Counselling, and the first with a music bed.

What Pinterest showed

Logged-out searches, 2 Nov 2026: "with hardship comes ease quran", "islamic reminder rain aesthetic", "cinematic rain window night" (screenshots only).

What's everywhere (we avoid it)

- 94:5–6 as pastel quote cards: calligraphy over flowers, sunsets and mosque silhouettes.
- Unsourced rain "facts" and sad close-up faces.

What we borrow

- Warm interiors against a cold, wet city.
- The clear umbrella: shelter, shared.

SHOT LIST · 45 SECONDS

Voiceover: 76 words plus the recitation, each line fitting its shot at 150 words a minute; the translation starts when the recitation ends. Captions = voiceover, word for word, in Poppins (the translation keeps its brackets). Teal words are cues. All text sits within y 270–1240 px and x 60–960 px of the 1080×1920 frame. Arabic is typed in the edit from the supplied text file, never generated by AI.

SHOT	VISUAL (ONE ACTION)	VOICEOVER = CAPTIONS · ON-SCREEN TEXT	SOUND
1 · Hook 0:00–0:03.5	Dusk. Rain runs down a tall Victorian window; the city's lights blur behind it. Very slow push-in.	"Manchester knows rain. Some days, so do we."	Rain on glass. The vocal bed hums in softly.
2 · The weight 0:03.5–0:07.5	A bus shelter at night in the rain. One man in a long dark coat, hood up, seen from behind at a distance, pulls his coat tighter.	"A bill. A loss. A worry nobody sees."	Rain on the shelter roof, a bus passing far off.
3 · The verse 0:07.5–0:20.5 Sacred mode	Locked-off close-up: raindrops falling into a dark puddle under one streetlamp, ripples spreading, slow motion. Nothing else moves.	BMHC's imam recites 94:5–6 (about 6 s; size the shot to his take). On screen during the recitation: فَإِنَّ مَعَ ٱلْعُسْرِ يُسْرًا ۝٥ إِنَّ مَعَ ٱلْعُسْرِ يُسْرًا ۝٦ Then the narrator: "Allah says: 'For indeed, with hardship [will be] ease. Indeed, with hardship [will be] ease.'" Ash-Sharh 94:5–6	The bed and the rain fade to silence before the recitation. Silence under the translation too.
4 · The word 0:20.5–0:25	At the bus stop, still raining, a second man already beside the first, his clear umbrella upright. He tilts it over the first man's shoulder. Both seen from behind.	"Notice the word: with. Not only after the hardship. With it." with · مَعَ in gold	The bed returns, warmer. Rain on the umbrella.
5 · Tea 0:25–0:29.5	A kitchen table, rain on the window behind, a second pair of hands opposite. One hand in a long sleeve slides a steaming mug across to them.	"Ease often comes while it's still raining: a cup of tea,"	Rain on the window, a spoon stirring softly in china.
6 · A call 0:29.5–0:32	A phone lying on the same table lights up with a soft blank glow. No screen text.	"a friend who calls,"	A gentle buzz on wood.
7 · The door 0:32–0:34.5	The Centre's front door at dusk in the rain, from real photos of it closed and open. It swings open and warm light spills across the wet steps.	"a door that's open."	The bed swells gently. Rain on stone.
8 · Inside 0:34.5–0:39	Through the open door: a slow push-in into the warm, lit entrance hall, built from real photos of the Centre. Empty and calm.	"Whatever you are going through, support is just a conversation away."	The rain falls away; the bed settles under the voice.
9 · End card 0:39–0:45	Designed, not AI: BMHC deep green, the real logo, the four colour bars.	"Imam Counselling at BMHC." Imam Counselling · confidential 0161 881 8062 · opening hours Form: bmhc.org.uk/imam-counselling Held for 6 s so it can be read. Small line: "Need to talk? Samaritans, free, day or night: 116 123. Urgent mental health help: NHS 111, mental health option. Emergency: 999." Plus the AI line (p. 4).	The bed resolves and fades after the last word.

Short cut (31.5 s): shots 1, 3, 4, 8 and 9 (3.5 + 13 + 4.5 + 4.5 + 6 = 31.5 s). It keeps the hook, the verse, the word "with", the support line and the full end card. Never shorten shot 3 or the end card.

AI PROMPTS · 9:16, IMAGE TO VIDEO

Workflow. (1) Photograph the Centre's front door at dusk, closed and open, and the lit entrance hall; these are the frames for shots 7 and 8, so the building is BMHC's own. (2) Make one keyframe each for the bus stop (shots 2 and 4) and the kitchen table (shots 5 and 6), so the place stays the same; shot 4's start frame adds the second man to the bus-stop keyframe. (3) Generate 2–3 takes of each 5 s clip with audio off, because the tools can add music or voices, then trim to the timings. Shot 3: generate 10 s, extend to about 15 s. (4) Add every word, the Arabic and the umbrella's gold "with" in the edit.

1 · Window. Start frame = a tall Victorian window with stone mullions at dusk, rain running down the glass, blurred amber and blue city lights beyond. Very slow push-in. Photoreal, 35 mm, shallow depth of field. No people.

2 · Bus stop. Start frame = a glass bus shelter at night in heavy rain, one man in a long dark wool coat with the hood up, seen from behind at a distance; end frame = the same, his coat pulled tighter around him. Wet pavement reflecting a streetlamp. Locked-off camera, 35 mm, cold blue light. Back to camera throughout; no face.

3 · Puddle. Locked-off macro of a dark puddle on stone under a single warm streetlamp; raindrops fall and ripples spread in slow motion. Black background, gentle highlights. Nothing else moves.

4 · Umbrella. Start frame = the bus-stop keyframe with two men in long dark coats, seen from behind, the second already beside the first, his clear umbrella upright; end frame = the umbrella tilted over the first man's shoulder. One movement: the umbrella tilts across. Rain drums on the umbrella. Both backs to camera.

5 · Tea. Start frame = a wooden kitchen table in warm lamplight, rain on the dark window behind, a steaming plain white mug near one hand in a long sleeve, and a second pair of hands, also in long sleeves, opposite; end frame = the mug beside the second pair of hands. One hand slides the mug across. Macro, shallow depth of field.

6 · Phone. Start frame = a plain dark phone lying face-up on the same table; end frame = the same phone with a soft, blank white screen glow. The phone lights up; nothing else moves. Blank screen: no text, icons or interface.

Negative prompt (all shots). faces, heads turned to camera, people praying, crowds, text, letters, Arabic script, calligraphy, Qur'an pages, signs, logos, brand names on umbrellas, mugs or phones, phone interface, notifications, app icons, domes, minarets, crescent moons, lanterns, cartoon, illustration, distorted hands, extra fingers, warped architecture, flicker.

SOUND AND MUSIC BRIEF

- Vocal-only nasheed bed. Layered male voices humming a slow, simple melody over a soft vocal drone: no instruments, no percussion (not even a daf), no synth pads, no sung Qur'anic words.
- Shape, about 66 BPM: a low, tender hum under the rain (shots 1–2); a warmer, rising line from shot 4; one gentle swell as the door opens (shot 7); it resolves and fades after "BMHC".
- Silence under the Qur'an: bed and rain fade out before the recitation and stay out through the translation.
- Mix: duck the bed about 12 dB under the voice; master at -14 LUFS.
- Source: commission a short vocal-only piece from a nasheed artist, or license one and check it hides no instruments. Never AI.
- Voices: a real narrator (warm, unhurried) and BMHC's imam or another qualified reciter. No AI voice.
- BMHC approves the bed. Fallback: voice, recitation, rain and room sound only.

ISLAMIC GUIDELINES CHECK

- No faces. People appear only from behind, at a distance, or as hands in long sleeves. There's no depiction of the Prophet ﷺ, angels or the Companions, and no worship is filmed.
- The Qur'an is exact and recited by a person. The Arabic comes from the King Fahd Complex text via Quran.com, is typed in the edit from the supplied text file, and is checked by BMHC's imam with the reflection on "with" (in line with the tafsir tradition, e.g. Ibn Kathir on 94:5–6). No AI recitation, Arabic or calligraphy.
- Music: voices only, no instruments, silent under the Qur'an, and approved by BMHC, with a voice-only fallback.
- Care with a sensitive subject. No promises of healing; the counselling is described in BMHC's own words; Samaritans, NHS 111 and 999 are signposted; and comments aren't used to collect people's struggles.
- Honest. The end card and caption say "AI-generated scenes; the building is from our own photos", and the AI label is on for Instagram and Facebook. Real footage can replace any shot.
