BRITISH MUSLIM HERITAGE CENTRE

With the Rain · storyboard options

The first visuals for the BMHC Reel, built from licensed stock footage, BMHC's own building photos and a rain layer generated in code · 9:16 vertical · on-screen text shown in the final style

HOW THIS WORKS

1. You choose a storyboard below (A, B or C), and tell me any frames to swap.
2. You record the voiceover from the script for that option (page 4): a human narrator, plus BMHC's imam reciting the verse.
3. I edit the final video to your voiceover: motion, grade, rain, on-screen text timed to every word, sound design and the background bed.

THE THREE OPTIONS

A · Rain to Refuge

RECOMMENDED

Follows the approved concept shot for shot: a worry, the verse, the word "with", small mercies (tea, a call), then BMHC's own front door lit in the rain.

9 shots · about 45 seconds

B · The City and the Centre

More cinematic and outdoor: wet streets, streetlamps and a tram street instead of the tea and phone close-ups. It feels like a short film about Manchester.

10 shots · about 47 seconds

C · The Short Cut

Only the strongest moments: the hook, the verse, "with" and BMHC's door. Best for Stories and a paid boost.

5 shots · about 31 seconds

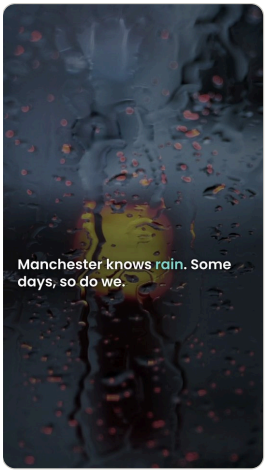

WHAT I GATHERED

- About 970 candidate clips were reviewed from Mixkit and Coverr, both free for commercial use. Every clip was checked frame by frame for faces, modest dress and anything unsuitable. Mixkit clips under its "Restricted" licence were rejected, because it doesn't allow company social media posts.
- Pexels, Pixabay and Videvo block automated access, and Magnific (the premium stock and AI video service connected here) has only 2 credits left. So no premium or AI-generated clips are used yet; see page 5 for what they would add.
- BMHC's own photos come from bmhc.org.uk: the Gothic tower and front door, graded to night with rain and warm light in the doorway. Instagram blocks automated access, so nothing was taken from @thebmhc. Any photos or clips you download from it can be swapped in.
- Rain: the rain falling over dry clips and photos is generated in code, so it has no licence issues and always matches.

Best upgrade: a 1-minute phone video from BMHC (4K, vertical, at dusk) of the front door opening and the lit entrance hall, empty. Shots 7 and 8 would then be real footage instead of a photo with added light.

OPTION A · RAIN TO REFUGE · ABOUT 45 S · RECOMMENDED

Frames show the real clip or photo, graded and cropped to 9:16, with the on-screen text in its final style. In the edit each shot moves: slow push-ins, falling rain, words appearing as they are spoken.

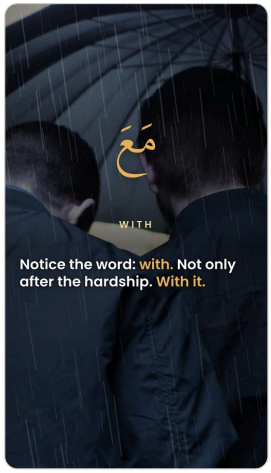

1 · 0:00–0:03.5 · Hook
"Manchester knows rain. Some days, so do we."
Rain on a window, one amber light · Mixkit

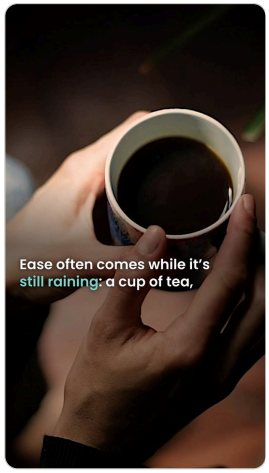

2 · 0:03.5–0:07.5
"A bill. A loss. A worry nobody sees."
Man alone under a light, from behind · Coverr · rain added

3 · 0:07.5–0:20.5 · The verse
Imam recites 94:5–6, then the translation. Bed and rain go silent.
Rain on dark water, graded to night · Mixkit

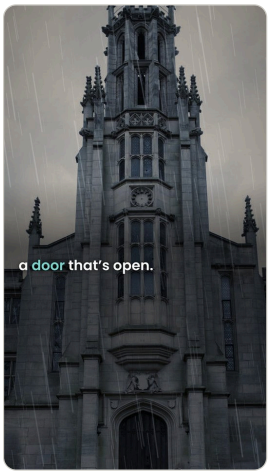

4 · 0:20.5–0:25 · "with"
"Notice the word: with. Not only after the hardship. With it."
Two men under one umbrella, from behind · Mixkit 4K

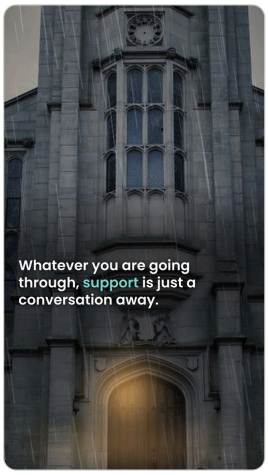

5 · 0:25–0:29.5
"Ease often comes while it's still raining: a cup of tea,"
Hands around a warm mug · Coverr

6 · 0:29.5–0:32
"a friend who calls,"
Phone glowing under a lamp · Mixkit, native vertical

7 · 0:32–0:34.5
"a door that's open."

8 · 0:34.5–0:39
"Whatever you are going through, support is just a conversation away."
Slow tilt down to BMHC's front door as warm light grows · BMHC photo

9 · 0:39–0:45 · End card
"Imam Counselling at BMHC." Card held 6 s.
Designed: real logo, the four colour bars, support numbers

Shot 5: the drink in this clip looks like black coffee. Either keep the line as "a cup of tea" and I'll keep looking for a tea shot (or BMHC films hands pouring tea), or change the line to "a warm cup".

OPTION B · THE CITY AND THE CENTRE · ABOUT 47 S

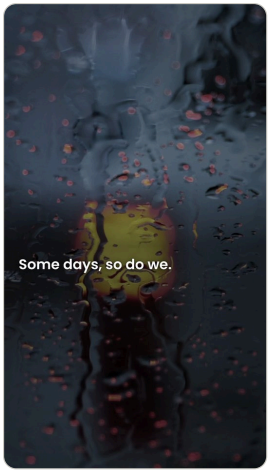

Same verse, “with” and BMHC shots as A, but the city carries the story: wet streets and streetlamps replace the tea and phone close-ups.

1 · 0:00–0:03 · Hook

“Manchester knows rain.”

Low, wet street reflections at night · Mixkit

2 · 0:03–0:06.5

“Some days, so do we.”

Rain on a window, amber light · Mixkit

3 · 0:06.5–0:10.5

“A bill. A loss. A worry nobody sees.”

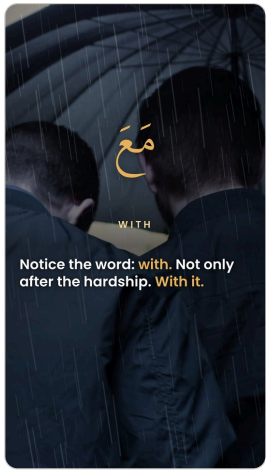

Man walking away at blue hour · Coverr · rain added

4 · 0:10.5–0:23.5 · The verse

Recitation, then the translation, in silence.

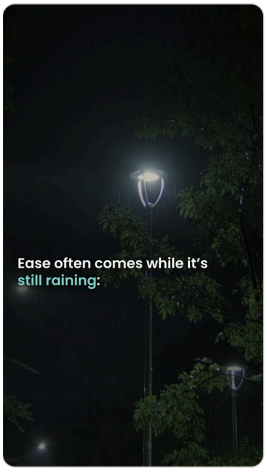

As A3

5 · 0:23.5–0:28 · “with”

“Notice the word: with. Not only after the hardship. With it.”

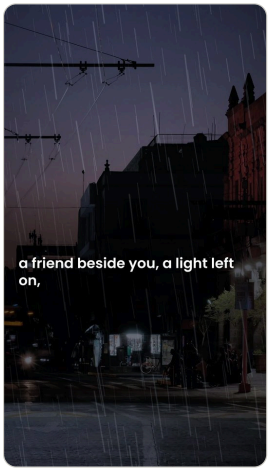

As A4

6 · 0:28–0:31.5

“Ease often comes while it’s still raining:”

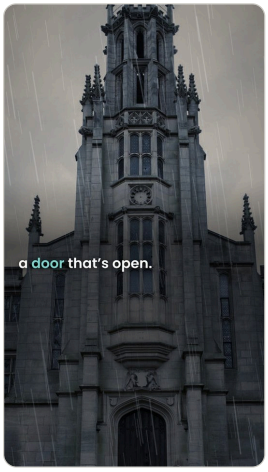

Rain through streetlamps · Mixkit 4K

7 · 0:31.5–0:34.5

“a friend beside you, a light left on,”

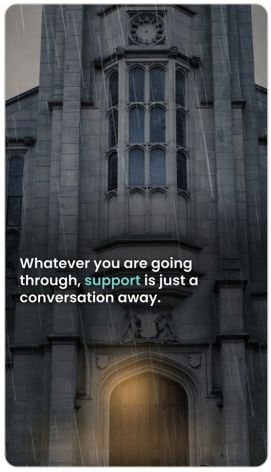

Red-brick street at dusk, tram wires · Mixkit 4K · rain added

8 · 0:34.5–0:36.5

“a door that’s open.”

As A7

9 · 0:36.5–0:41

“Whatever you are going through, support is just a conversation away.”

As A8

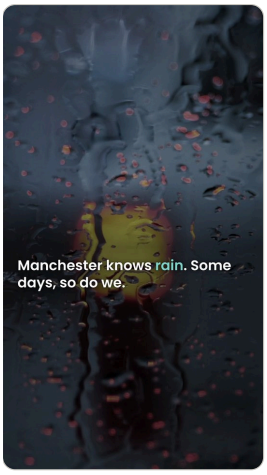

10 · 0:41–0:47 · End card

“Imam Counselling at BMHC.”

As A9

OPTION C · THE SHORT CUT · ABOUT 31 S

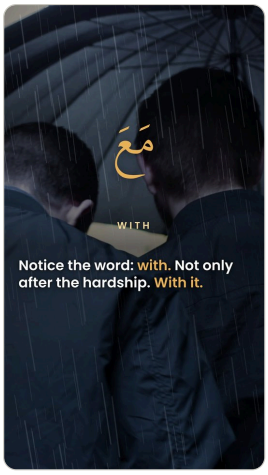

1 · 0:00–0:03.5

"Manchester knows rain. Some days, so do we."

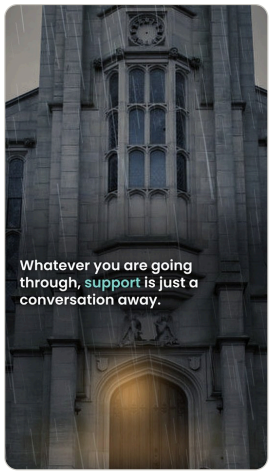

2 · 0:03.5–0:16.5

Recitation, then the translation.

3 · 0:16.5–0:21

"Notice the word: with. Not only after the hardship. With it."

4 · 0:21–0:25.5

"Whatever you are going through, support is just a conversation away."

5 · 0:25.5–0:31.5

"Imam Counselling at BMHC."

VOICEOVER SCRIPT · OPTION A (FOR RECORDING)

About 76 spoken words plus the recitation, read calmly at about 150 words a minute. Captions on screen match the voice word for word. Options B and C use the same lines, with the changes listed under the script.

0:00	Manchester knows rain. Some days, so do we.
0:03.5	A bill. A loss. A worry nobody sees.
0:07.5	[BMHC's imam recites Ash-Sharh 94:5–6, about 6 seconds]
	فَإِنَّ مَعَ ٱلْعُسْرِ يُسْرًا ۝٥ إِنَّ مَعَ ٱلْعُسْرِ يُسْرًا ۝٦
0:14	Allah says: "For indeed, with hardship [will be] ease. Indeed, with hardship [will be] ease."
0:20.5	Notice the word: with. Not only after the hardship. With it.
0:25	Ease often comes while it's still raining: a cup of tea,
0:29.5	a friend who calls,
0:32	a door that's open.
0:34.5	Whatever you are going through, support is just a conversation away.
0:39	Imam Counselling at BMHC.

Option B: the opening is split across two shots ("Manchester knows rain." / "Some days, so do we."). Lines 5 and 6 become "Ease often comes while it's still raining: a friend beside you, a light left on, a door that's open." Option C: lines 1, the verse, 4, 7 and 8 only.

Recording the voiceover

- A calm, warm British narrator, human (no AI voice). Unhurried and kind, not dramatic.
- Record each line separately with a second of silence between, in a quiet room or booth.
- Send WAV, 48 kHz, 24-bit (an iPhone voice memo is a fallback). No music or effects on it.
- Say "Ash-Sharh" and "Imam" naturally; the URL appears on screen, so it isn't read out.

Recording the recitation

- BMHC's imam (or a qualified reciter) recites 94:5–6 once, slowly, as a separate file. No AI recitation.
- The shot is sized to his take. It is never trimmed or sped up.
- Ask the imam to check the Arabic on screen and the reflection on "with". The text file is supplied with the concept.

BACKGROUND MUSIC

You asked for proper background music. For a mosque, the respectful choice is a vocal-only nasheed-style bed with no instruments: soft layered humming that swells on "with" and on the door, dips under the voice, and goes completely silent under the recitation and the translation. Choose one:

- 1 · Licensed vocal-only nasheed (recommended): a short "vocals only" or a cappella track from a library BMHC is happy with, or a nasheed artist BMHC knows. I edit it to the cut.
- 2 · AI-generated vocal bed: made to fit the timing exactly with Magnific's music tools. That needs about 1,000 credits for 50 seconds, and the account currently has 2.
- 3 · Voice and rain only: no music, just rain, the city and the voice. It is free and ready now, and it is the safest choice if BMHC prefers no music.

Either way, the edit has full sound design: rain on glass and stone, a distant bus, an umbrella, a spoon in a cup, a soft phone buzz and the door. It is mixed for Instagram at -14 LUFS.

GAPS AND UPGRADES

- The verse shot (3): the best free clip is daylight water graded to night. An AI-generated night puddle under a streetlamp would be stronger: about 3 clips × 2,800 Magnific credits, or a Kling account connected in your claude.ai settings.
- Shots 2 and 4: the clips are dry or daytime, so rain and a night grade are added. AI or real footage of a bus shelter in the rain would be closer to the concept.
- Shots 7 and 8: BMHC's real photo works well now. Real door and hall footage from BMHC would be better still.
- Quality: the 1080p landscape clips are cropped to vertical and sharpened, and the 4K clips stay full quality. The final export is 1080×1920 at 30 fps.
