Can I Foster If...?

SaaS motion-graphics animation with voiceover and word-synced captions · 9:16 vertical, 1080×1920 · about 45 seconds · Instagram, Facebook and TikTok (organic and paid) · built in After Effects

CONCEPT

The idea

Most people who are curious about fostering have a "but". They think Can I foster if... and never finish the sentence out loud. This video finishes it for them.

The unfinished sentence builds itself word by word in huge kinetic type, "Can I foster if...", filling a warm peach frame in time with the voice. Then five endings drop out of the ellipsis as a list, all real questions from Organic Fostering's FAQ page: pets, being retired, already having children, working, and a health condition. The cursor clicks each one, the row opens into an answer card, and the answer is the site's own: Yes, Usually, Possibly and, for health, "does not automatically prevent fostering".

The honest answers are the point. "Possibly. It depends..." builds more trust than a list of yeses. At the end the sentence comes back with a blinking caret, waiting for the viewer's own question, and then folds into the call to action: Send your question.

HOOK · FIRST 4 SECONDS
"Thinking about fostering? You've probably wondered: can I foster if..."

END LINE
"Send your question to a real person in our Manchester team."

Who it's for

Adults across Manchester and the North West who have thought about fostering but quietly ruled themselves out. They might be retired, have pets or children of their own, work, or live with a health condition, and they haven't asked anyone yet.

Why it works

- It answers the doubt, not the brochure. Each question is a real reason people hesitate, and each answer is copied from organicfostering.co.uk/faqs, so nothing is promised that the site doesn't say.
- Honesty is the hook. The "Possibly" and "not automatically" cards are what make the "Yes" cards believable.
- Everything follows the voice. The sentence builds as the narrator speaks, each card opens on the word that names it, and the captions match the voiceover.
- The call to action is a question, not an application. "Send your question" is the website's own button. It runs as a Meta lead form that mirrors the site's enquiry form.

Why it's new

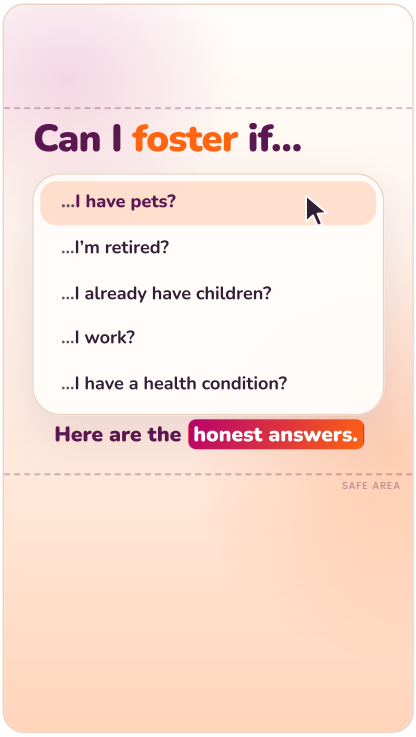

Earlier pieces covered the requirements (the "Could You?" checklist: spare room, time, renting or owning, single or a couple), the allowance, the area checker, transfers, the year-in-review and the CV scanner. This one covers the doubts that sit outside the requirements. It is the first piece built on the site's FAQ answers, and the first to use kinetic type that breaks open into a question list.

STORYBOARD: SIX KEY FRAMES

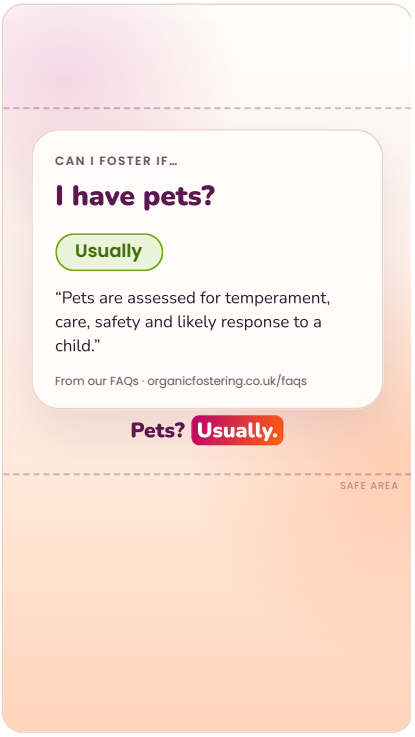

Layout sketches in Organic Fostering's colours and fonts; the final art is built in After Effects. The dashed lines mark the safe area (y = 270–1240 px at 1080×1920): every word stays between them, clear of Reels ads' bottom 35% and the buttons on the right.

1 · Hook · 0:03
The sentence builds word by word in huge type, filling the frame in time with the narrator.

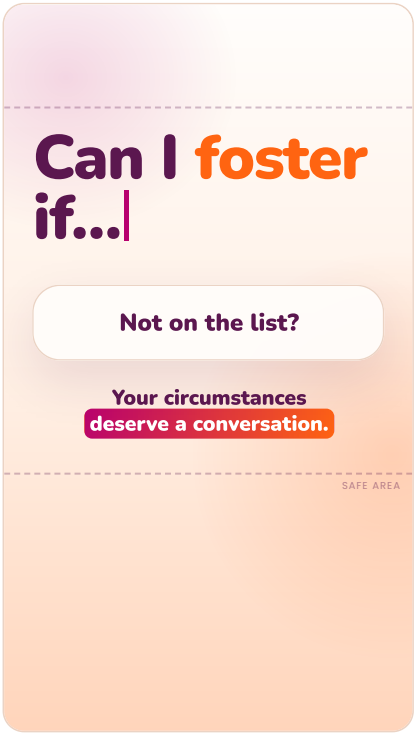

2 · Suggestions · 0:06
The sentence shrinks to the top and five endings drop out of its ellipsis as a list.

3 · Answer card · 0:09
The clicked row grows into a card and the pill lands on "Usually".

4 · The honest one · 0:24
Answered cards fold into a list with their pills. "Possibly" gets the same care as "Yes".

5 · Your question · 0:35
The big sentence returns with a blinking caret, waiting for the viewer's own ending.

6 · End card · 0:44
The sentence folds into the button, the cursor clicks it, and the phone, web address and Ofsted line appear.

SCRIPT AND SYNC SHEET

89 spoken words, about 36 seconds of speech at a calm 150 words a minute, inside a 45-second edit. The captions are the voiceover, word for word (in beat 1 the big kinetic words are the caption). Purple words are cues: the element on the right enters on that word. Every answer on screen is quoted from organicfostering.co.uk/faqs.

BEAT	VOICEOVER = CAPTIONS	ON SCREEN
1 · Hook 0:00–0:04.5	"Thinking about fostering? You've probably wondered: can I foster if…"	• Thinking about fostering? → a cream-to-peach canvas with slow glows; the line types in small at the top. • can I foster if… → each word slams in huge with the voice until the sentence fills the frame, ending on a blinking caret; "foster" is in brand orange.
2 · Suggestions 0:04.5–0:07	"Here are the honest answers."	• honest answers → the sentence shrinks to the top and five endings drop out of its ellipsis: …I have pets? · …I'm retired? · …I already have children? · …I work? · …I have a health condition? A peach highlight slides to the first.
3 · Pets 0:07–0:11.5	"Pets? Usually. They're assessed for temperament and safety."	• Pets? → click and ripple; the row grows into an answer card while the others dim. • Usually → a green-outline pill. The FAQ line: "Pets are assessed for temperament, care, safety and likely response to a child." • temperament, safety → those two words light up in the quote, one on each.
4 · Retired 0:11.5–0:16	"Retired? Yes. There's no fixed upper age limit."	• Retired? → the pets card folds back into the list with its pill; the next row opens. Yes → a leaf-green pill. • no fixed upper age limit → an age track runs off the card with no end marker, above the FAQ line: "There is no fixed upper age limit. Health, energy, lifestyle and capacity for consistent care will be considered."
5 · Children 0:16–0:21.5	"Already have children? Yes. Their views are part of the assessment."	• Already have children? → the third row opens. Yes → green pill. • Their views → a small speech-bubble chip, then the FAQ line: "Your children's views, ages, needs and the possible effect of fostering on family life form part of assessment."
6 · Working 0:21.5–0:26.5	"Working? Possibly. It depends on your hours, flexibility and support network."	• Working? → the fourth row opens. Possibly → an orange-outline pill, landing with the same spring as "Yes". • hours, flexibility, support network → each lights up in the FAQ line as it's said: "It depends on your hours, flexibility, support network, household and the child's needs."
7 · Health 0:26.5–0:31	"A health condition? It doesn't automatically prevent fostering."	• A health condition? → the last row opens. • doesn't automatically prevent fostering → a magenta-outline pill, "Not automatically", with the FAQ line: "A disability, medical condition or mental-health history does not automatically prevent fostering."
8 · Your question 0:31–0:36	"Your question's not on the list? Your circumstances deserve a conversation."	• not on the list → the rows slide away; the big sentence returns with a blinking caret and a small card: "Not on the list?" • deserve a conversation → the caption carries the homepage line, "Your circumstances deserve a conversation."
9 · Call to action 0:36–0:42.5	"Send your question to a real person in our Manchester team. No pressure, no obligation."	• Send your question → the sentence folds into the gradient button "Send your question" and the cursor clicks it. • a real person, Manchester team → two chips settle under the button: "A real person replies" and "Manchester team". No pressure, no obligation. → a small line beneath.
10 · End card 0:42.5–0:45	"Organic Fostering."	• Organic Fostering → the logo builds above the button, with 0161 241 1332, organicfostering.co.uk and a small star badge: "Rated Good by Ofsted · Inspected May 2025". Hold to the end.

Cut-downs: each answer also works as a 13-second ad (hook, one card, end card) to test which question brings in the most enquiries.

#B7006E · brand, cues	#FF6411 · glow, gradient	#5B174F · type	#FFFDFB · canvas, cards	#FFD4BA · canvas, highlight	#933900 · "Possibly"	#64A60B · "Yes"

- Look: a warm cream-to-peach canvas with slow magenta and orange glows. Cream glass cards with the site's 22 px corners and its soft plum shadow. No people, no photos and no search-engine look.
- Type: Nunito, the website's font, for the kinetic sentence, the questions, answers and captions; Poppins only for tiny labels and pills.
- Answer pills: Yes (leaf green), Usually (green outline), Possibly (orange outline), Not automatically (magenta outline). There's never a red or a cross.
- Motion: words slam in on the narrator's syllables with a soft squash; the list drops out of the ellipsis on springs; a highlight slides between rows; each clicked row grows into its card and folds back with its pill; the sentence folds into the button. A light 3D tilt, slow push-ins and motion blur add depth.
- Sound: a warm British narrator (the voice used for the earlier voiceover versions keeps the account consistent), soft key ticks, a pop per row, a click and ripple, a gentle whoosh on each card. Add a light music bed ducked under the voice, or keep it SFX-only as with the reels. Master at −14 LUFS.

Lead form (mirrors the site's enquiry form)

- Name, phone, email and postcode, then "How can we help?" (the site's options): I want to check whether I could foster · I am beginning to explore fostering · I am ready to discuss an application · Something else.
- The site's warning above any comment box: "Please do not include detailed information about a child, criminal matter, medical diagnosis or other highly sensitive information." Link organicfostering.co.uk/privacy-policy.
- Thank-you screen: "A member of our Manchester team will explain the next step without pressure or obligation."
- Runs as a standard Meta ad, no special ad category (no pay or job claims).

Comments: pin "What's your 'Can I foster if...' question?"; answer general questions only and move anything personal to a call. Cover: the big kinetic sentence on peach.
