Organic Fostering: "Plot Twist"

30-second AI video (photoreal, phone-shot look, not animation) · 9:16 vertical · Instagram Reels, TikTok and Facebook

CONCEPT

The idea

It looks like an ordinary family vlog, filmed on a phone: "POV: a normal Tuesday in our house." Pancakes, a rainy school run, the park, homework, spaghetti for tea, a bedroom door left open a crack at night. Each moment flows into the next with a quick hand-over-the-lens transition.

Then the plot twist appears on screen: "8 months ago, we'd never met." This was a foster family all along. The point lands without a single word of explanation: fostering happens in the everyday.

Line: Fostering happens in the everyday.

Why it's eye-catching

- It doesn't look like an advert, so people don't scroll past. It looks like a family's own phone video.
- The plot twist rewards watching to the end and makes people watch again, which helps reach.
- The hand-cover transitions give it pace, about 4 seconds per moment.

Why it's new

Earlier AI videos were cinematic stories: "Unpacked", "The Doorframe", "No Capes Required" and "Leave the Light On". This is the first in a lo-fi, phone-vlog style, and the first built on a twist ending.

SCRIPT

HOOK · 0–3 s

Visual: A phone-shot close-up in a sunny kitchen: a pancake flips in a pan and a small hand sneaks a blueberry off the plate. A slight handheld wobble.

On-screen text: POV: a normal Tuesday in our house

Sound: sizzle, a giggle off-screen, a radio playing quietly.

THE ORDINARY DAY · 3–23 s

Visual: Five moments, each about 4 seconds, joined by a hand passing over the lens:

1. School run, 8:40: two pairs of feet on a wet Manchester pavement, one big and one small; small wellies jump straight into a puddle.
2. The park, 3:30: from behind, a child on a swing goes up into a grey sky; an adult's hands give a push.
3. Homework, 4:45: a pencil, a maths sheet, and an adult hand pressing a gold star sticker onto the page, then a small high-five.
4. Tea, 6:00: inverted focus: a child in the soft foreground twirls spaghetti while the foster carer, sharp in the background, laughs.
5. Bedtime, 8:00: the hallway at night; a bedroom door left open a crack, a warm stripe of landing light across the carpet. A whisper: "Night."

On-screen text: small time stamps only (8:40, 3:30, 4:45, 6:00, 8:00), like a phone vlog.

THE PLOT TWIST · 23–27 s

Visual: The landing shot holds. The screen gently darkens and text types on, one line at a time:

On-screen text: Plot twist: 8 months ago, we'd never met. → This is fostering.

Voiceover (soft, first words of the video): "Fostering happens in the everyday."

CTA · 27–30 s

Visual: End card on the magenta-to-orange gradient with the OF logo.

On-screen text: Could you make room? · Start the conversation · 0161 241 1332 · organicfostering.co.uk

Voiceover: "Could you make room? Start the conversation with Organic Fostering."

AI PRODUCTION

Style line: add to every prompt

Filmed on an iPhone, vertical 9:16, handheld with slight natural wobble, auto-exposure, natural daylight or warm lamp light, ordinary lived-in UK home, light grain, muted colours, no cinematic lighting, no text, no logos, no readable signs.

Example prompts

- Hook: phone-camera close-up of a pancake flipping in a frying pan in a sunny UK kitchen; a small child's hand reaches into frame and takes a blueberry from a plate; handheld, natural light.

- School run: low phone shot of two pairs of feet walking on a wet grey pavement, one adult in trainers and one child in yellow wellies who jumps into a puddle; overcast Manchester morning.
- Tea: kitchen table at dinner; a child in the blurred foreground twirls spaghetti; a woman in her 40s in sharp focus behind, laughing naturally; warm lamp light; slightly messy table.
- Hand-cover transitions: generate each clip so it ends with a hand moving across the lens and the next one starts with a hand moving away, then match them in the edit.

Tips

- Keep it looking like a real phone: no gimbal-smooth moves, no shallow "advert" bokeh, no perfect lighting.
- Add the "POV" caption, time stamps and the twist text in the edit, not in the AI generation.
- Children appear only from behind, as hands and feet, or out of focus.

Sound

- Real-sounding room tone in every clip: the sizzle, rain and a puddle splash, the swing chains creaking, a pencil scratching, cutlery, and a quiet "Night".
- A light, lo-fi acoustic bed that drops out completely for the plot twist, so the text lands in silence.
- Only one spoken line before the CTA, so the twist feels personal.

CAPTION

Just a normal Tuesday. Until you read the end. 🧡

Fostering isn't one big moment. It's pancakes, puddles, homework and a door left open at night. Fostering happens in the everyday.

SAFEGUARDING AND COPY CHECK

- This is a dramatisation, not a real family. Turn on Instagram's "AI info" label and keep the small on-screen note "Dramatised. AI-generated. Not a real family." throughout.
- No identifiable children: backs, hands, feet and soft focus only. No school uniforms with badges, house numbers, street names or number plates.
- The twist line is on-screen text, not a quote from a generated carer's face, so it is not presented as a real testimonial.
- "Fostering happens in the everyday", "Could you make room?" and the informal first conversation come from Organic Fostering's own materials. No allowance figures are used.
